

Moles adventure

there was a little mole he dug underground looking for adventure the little mole was bound he packed a little case for his holiday things that he might need while along the way mole he started digging for three months and a day till the ground got hard he had hit some clay then one final push the little mole was through in this place so lovely a place he never knew it was full of beauty and the sun was shining bright the little mole was happy it filled him with delight then he took a stroll in this adventure land all along the beach playing in the sand he was having fun on his holiday in the land he found so very far away.
