Write a food advert of your own, make it sumptuous and irresistible, using as many yummy, descriptive words as you can.

Maths

Using weights from food packets at home have a go at rounding them to the nearest 10, 100 and 1000. Make a table to show your results.

Practice 3's and 4's times tables and write them out in inverse.

i.e.  $5 \times 3 = 15$  so  $15 \div 3 = 5$

Art

Have a go at creating a Stone Age hunting scene. Using whatever media you have at home, this could be pencil, crayons or even collage, whatever you can find.

History

Early Stone Age people had to pack up and move on at certain times of the year. Write a short explanation of why they did this. Add a picture of them on the move. Have a look back at the BBC Video showing this for ideas.

If you can, make a visit to a graveyard, try to find a headstone that dates before 1900. Write down what it has on it. Take a photo if possible. If you can't get to a graveyard you could research on the internet.
