

LO: Recognising Modal Verbs

Practise

1. Order the sentences below based on the necessity (least to most) that the modal verb implies. Explain your order.

A. I will go to the fun fair.

B. I might go to the fun fair.

2. Theo wants his sentence to show that he promises to do his best in any circumstances.

No matter what happens, I shall try my hardest.

Has Theo chosen the correct modal verb to convey this?

Explain your answer.

Reasoning and problem solving - modal verbs

3a

Jack will definitely go to the party

Hannah wants her sentence to show that Jack going to the party is possible but not certain.

Has Hannah chosen the correct modal verb to convey this?

Explain your answer.

3b.

This week the weather forecast has suggested that it is possible it will rain this week.

Abel wants his sentence to show that rain is certain this week.

Has Abel chosen the correct modal verb to convey this?

Explain your answer.

4a. Order the sentences below based on the necessity (least to most) that the modal verb implies. Explain your order.

A. I will go to the party.

B. I might go to the party.

5b. Order the sentences below based on the necessity (least to most) that the modal verb implies. Explain your order.

A. I must send the invites out.

B. I should send the invites out.