Understanding the World

There are lots of people who help us. Can you think
 3 different people who help us?

 What different types of help would people need and why?

Conversation Starters How? What? Why?

How tall are you? How could you measure your height?

What makes you happy?

Why do we have names?

Have a chat about what makes you – you and me – me.

Mathematics

It's all about the number 3 this week.

Attached are 3 work sheets, do you see what we did there!

What objects can you find associated with the number 3?

Expressive Art and Design

"Appreciate Art".

Paint a pebble to look like the fish in the story.
Use your favourite colours, use patterns, be expressive. If you don't have a pebble then you can design your fish on paper.

Use the figure cut-outs in your pouch to draw you - but we would like you to draw a Stand Out you. Use colours that are your favourite and patterns that express your personality and mood; how do you feel today? Are your swirly, pointy, zigzaggy or dotty.

There is a sheet attached showing the work of Japanese artist Yayoi Kusama. She lets her personality and love of colour and pattern overflow into all her work and clothes - have a look at the pictures. Do you like her happy designs and paintings?

Writing

Use your name sheets to practice name writing and holding a pen.
Can you use your birdy beak grip?

Personal Social and Emotional Stand Out

How can people stand out in a good way in the classroom? On the playground? At home? Discuss how it might feel to perform standout behaviour. Do you feel pride? Happiness? Satisfaction?

How can you show stand out behaviour at home? Are there some jobs you can help with?

Can you try hard to put your coat on, your shoes on, make your bed?

Let us know on Tapestry how you showed stand out behaviour this week.
