

Understanding the World

The Big Garden Bird watch – did you take part?

If so, what birds did you see?

Why is it important to know how many birds visit our gardens?

Can you draw one of the birds you saw?

Mathematics

It's all about the number 4

Butterflies have 4 wings–2 on each side. Draw or paint a picture of a butterfly. Can you use 4 different colours to decorate the wings?

It is Harriet's birthday on 2nd February. Can you make a card or a badge with the number 4 on and wear it to our Zoom on Wednesday?

Squares and rectangles all have 4 sides. Can you draw a picture using these shapes?

Expressive Art and Design

Making patterns with 4 sided objects.

Can you make some decorative patterns using rectangles and squares? You could print, collage or draw around 2D shapes.

You could stick squares on squares or cut 4 sided pictures from magazines and make a collage? The possibilities are endless....

Communication and Language

Discussion and Description

Look closely at the Marc Chagall painting sheet. Talk about what you can see, what you think is happening, where the scene is set, how the painting makes you feel.

Grown-ups: There are some questions and prompts to help you. Encourage your child to use sentences and full descriptions rather than one-word answers.

Physical Development

Let's practise more manual dexterity tasks.

Make yourselves a hairdressing salon. Use brushes and combs, bobbles and slides and be as creative as you can. We know some of you like using too!

Look in the useful websites for how to make a head from cardboard tubes and paper. Use your scissors to trim the paper hair. You Try curling the paper hair or tying it together.

Literacy

Don't forget to check the daily phonics activities. This week we are going to introduce alliteration.

Personal Social and Emotional

We would like you to think positively about yourself – that means think about all the things you can do well and things you are learning to do.

Grown-ups – please can you list all the positive things your children say to describe themselves and send them to us on Tapestry. We'd like to add them to an Only One You display.
