

- The source of the River Severn is Plynlimon, Ceredigion.
- The mouth of the River Trent is Trent Falls, Humber Estuary, North Sea.
- The Severn runs through Wales and England.
- The source of the River Ure/Ouse is Ure Head, Yorkshire.
- The mouth of the River Wye is the Severn Estuary, Bristol Channel.
- The Thames is 346km long.
- The world's first iron bridge was built over the River Severn.
- The Ure/Ouse is 208km long.
- The source of the River Trent is Biddulph Moor, Staffordshire.
- The Trent is 297km long.
- The Severn is 354km long.
- The source of the River Great Ouse is Wappenham, Northamptonshire.
- The River Trent is unusual because it flows north.
- The course of the Great Ouse has been modified to relieve flooding and create better channels for barges.
- The mouth of the River Thames is the Thames Estuary, North Sea.
- The Ure/Ouse is in England.
- The Thames flows through London and is where the annual University Boat Race between Oxford and Cambridge takes place.
- The Wye is 215km long.
- The Thames is in England.
- The Trent is in England.
- The mouth of the River Great Ouse is The Wash, North Sea.
- The source of the River Thames is Thames Head, Gloucestershire.
- The River Ure changes its name around 119km from its source to become the River Ouse.
- The source of the River Wye is Plynlimon, Ceredigion.
- The Great Ouse is 230km long.
- The River Wye is one of Britain's most important rivers for nature conservation.
- The mouth of the River Severn is the Severn Estuary, Bristol Channel.
- The Wye runs through Wales and England.
- The mouth of the River Ure/Ouse is Trent Falls, Humber Estuary, North Sea.
- The Great Ouse is in England.

